

Appalachian Mountain Ministry Newsletter

October 2017

Fall is here, and the weather is greatly appreciated. It has been a hot summer with the new buildings and the fans we fared well. There were a couple of hot days, but we are certainly looking to the fall weather. This month we will be delivering the Backpacks that were packed by the churches in the Association to Copperhill, Tn. and deliver them to the Site there to be used for the children in their area of responsibility. These bags will be leaving on the 2nd of November. We have a load going out to South Carolina on the 30th of October where we will be taking furniture, Christmas items, clothes, and dishes. We also have a semi going out the second Friday of November which will go to support the sites at Jellico and Williamsburg. As you can tell we are really keeping busy. It seems like each week we get more and more donations. We are truly grateful to Goodwill, The Warehouse, Methodist Children's home, Hospice thrift store in Warner Robins, Cochran Thrift store and the marvelous and generous people in the Warner Robins community for their regular donations to this vital ministry.

This work could not be accomplished without all the volunteers that we have coming on a regular basis. They are so dedicated to this ministry and they all work in harmony together that it is marvelous to see how they do as a team. Everyone just jumps in and helps where the need is and before you know it the mountain of donations that have been brought in over the week are packed and the gaylord's are situated and ready for shipment.

We want to thank each one who contributes money to the Appalachian Mountain Ministry. This money is used for transporting the donations up to the mountains. If you would like to become a monthly donor or if you would just like to contribute from time to time you can send your check to the Rehoboth Baptist Association with the mark for Appalachian Mountain Ministry inserted. Your donations are tax deductible. We appreciate everything you do to help this ministry continue to grow.

We are now collecting coats for the people in the Mountains. If you have a coat or coats that are in good shape and just want to find a good home for them, please bring them over to our facility and they will get a welcomed home in the mountains.

We hope you have a blessed Thanksgiving dinner and an enjoyable day with family and friends.

Love in Christ,

Pete Soots, Director Appalachian Mountain Ministry
