

Appalachian Mountain Ministry
June 2017 Newsletter

Summer is here and with it comes a new building in which to do our ministry. We are very proud of it even though it is not totally completed; we have been packing in it to get out of the heat. What a difference it makes! The packers are much happier, and when they are happier, we are all happy. They have suffered under some very difficult hot and cold situations for a long time and to give them something more comfortable makes me feel good. They deserve every bit of it. We thank God for His Blessings!

We have been blessed so much with donations for the mountains and we have been able to send two semi loads to Kentucky, who spreads it out to five other locations. The cost of a semi makes it much cheaper to get the material up there so we are happy that we can do it. Being good servants of God's money in ministry is our goal.

We should be in our building totally within about two weeks if the weather will cooperate with us. We are awaiting an inspection from the county so that we can enclose the bathroom and finish installing the fixtures. The lights will be permanent as soon as Flint connects the underground and that will allow the electrical to be final; then we will do the landscaping around the building and put the water hold pond, and the loading dock, and that will finish the building.

We are so thankful and blessed to be associated with Rehoboth Baptist Association and have a fine core of people to work with; we couldn't have got to this point without Bro. Tim and all the committees that worked with us. Thank You.
